SAINT PETER'S COLLEGE

ISSUED BY THE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE □ JERSEY CITY, N. J. 07306 / 333-4400 EXT. 212

NUMBER TWENTY-TWO

FEBRUARY 28, 1972

BACK TO CLASS....Dr. Mason Gross, former president of Rutgers University will be on campus from April 12 to 14 as a centennial mini-professor. Students interested in participating in a discussion with Dr. Gross on B.F. Skinner's new book, Beyond Freedom and Dignity, should contact Dr. Eileen Poiani in the Mathematics Department, 121 Glenwood Avenue.

SPOTLIGHT ON STUDENTS....The Centennial will be devoting March to the students of Saint Peter's College. Throughout the month there will be special entertainment each week by outside groups and events featuring the talents of our own students. The shows start at noon Wednesday when Country Grenola, a group that combines, country, rock and blues, gives a concert in Pope Lecture Hall. The group has appeared with Poco the Byrds and Seatrain.

CONCERT PREVIEW**

The music of Licia Albanese and Giuseppe DiStefano, the artists who will appear in a centennial concert on March 12 in Carnegie Hall, will be the theme of a special edition of Music-at-Noon on Thursday. Professors John Benson and James Pegolotti will lead the discussion. Tickets for the Carnegie Hall gala are still available in the ticket office.

CONCERT PREVIEW**

SEE IT NOW....Remember Bert and Harry, Milton Berle in outlandish costume, Captain video and Buffalo Bob. If you do and you're in the mood for some nostalgia, or if you don't, but still want some laughs, be sure to catch this week's video tape, "Aereopagitica or Great Seconds in Television". David Susskind is among the hosts who narrate the bits and pieces from TV's history and our youth. The tape will be shown in Pope 201-202-203 at 1 P.M. today, and noon Wednesday.

GAINING SUPPORT....Father Ryan scored a few more points last week in his campaign to get state aid for New Jersey's independent colleges. Both the Newark Star Ledger and Hudson Dispatch editorially endorse the aid package. Father Ryan last week addressed student senators at the leadership conference at Harvey Cedars. He pointed out there is a large amount of student absenteeism on the 21 college committee students serve on. He urged better attendance and suggested the student senate demand reports from its student committeemen.

LAW DINNER....Congresswoman Edith Green, who has sponsored most of the higher education legislation that has come through Congress in the last ten years, will be the speaker at the Alumni Law Dinner Saturday night on campus. Mrs. Green will receive an honorary degree.

STAFF MEETING....The Pauw Wow will hold a staff meeting at 1 P.M. today in its office, basement of 104 Glenwood Avenue. Anyone interested in working on the paper is welcome to attend. Deadline for the next issue is Friday.

CAMPUS RECRUITING....United Parcel Service representatives will be recruiting in the Career Development Office from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M. March 8. No appointments are needed. On that same day Family Fashions also will be recruiting. However, students must sign up for an interview by March 7. Family Fashions does not require a specific major.

CLASSICAL POWER...."Thucydides and the Concept of Power" will be Dr. George Yanitelli's Centennial Conversation at 8 P.M. Thursday in the Pavonia Room.

OF HUMAN INTEREST....The National Endowment for the Humanities has launched a new program "Youthgrants in the Humanities" which is open to Saint Peter's students. Proposals may be submitted on informal or formal education, study or research of a specific problem, or activities aimed at disseminating humanistic knowledge or applying them to the understanding of ethical, social or political problems. The deadline for the first review of the proposals is March 17 and for more information contact Mr. John B. Wilson, College Relations Office, 121 Glenwood Avenue.

SPECIAL EDITION....The Centennial Edition of the Peacock Pie, because of its size and scope, will be published in the fall. The yearbook is attempting to capture as many of the centennial events as possible for its pages. Students who would like to work on the book, especially underclassmen, are welcome to drop by the office any afternoon.

LOST: ONE NOTEBOOK....Professor Joseph Pace of the History Department is offering a reward for a notebook he lost last week in Pope 301. It has the title Tudor England 1485-1603 and 19th Century France. The book also bears a Fordham crest.

FACULTY NOTES....Professor Charles J. Reitemeyer of Economics recently discussed "Implications of the Prophecies of Fatima" at a meeting of the Saint Stephen's Rosary Society, Kearny. Professor Robert Ackelsberg, Management and Marketing represented the college at last week's conference of the American Marketing Association in Washington, D.C. Accountancy Professor Gregory P. Cinnella recently received a plaque from the Paramus Free Public Library for his work as a member of the library's board of trustees. Professor Alessandro Calianese, computer science, has been cited by the Jersey City Area Development Council for his work on one of the group's publications, "An Analysis of Jersey City's Electronic Data Processing Community". Dr. Daniel Serra-Badue's paintings are being exhibited as part of the Artists New York '72 show now at the Union Carbide Building, 270 Park Avenue.

AND, ON THE ADMINISTRATIVE SIDE....Mr. Robert Nilan, director of admissions, who is president of the New Jersey Association of College Admissions Counselors, will be representing the group at a conference of state and regional officers, March 9 and 10 in San Antonio, Texas.

CALLING NEW MEMBERS....Students interested in joining the Amateur Radio Club should attend a meeting at noon Wednesday in the basement of Pope.
