JUST TO CLARIFY

In case it was not made clear in last week's edition of Campus, it was the Afro-American Studies Program which sponsored the events, commemorating the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Campus regrets any inconvenience this may have caused.

MEMORIAL

Rev. Joseph Kelly, S.J., Director of Campus Ministry will celebrate a memorial Mass at 8 p.m. on Wednesday in McDermott Chapel for Jean O'Connor, Class of 1983, who died during the Christmas vacation in a car accident. Jean was a member of the first graduating nursing class at Saint Peter's. The College Community is invited to this Mass to be followed by coffee in Pope Hall, Room 5.

ONE HECK OF AN ACT

This week, the people who brought you the magic of Kramer and Co. last semester proudly present the comedy of Still & Max.

A little wooden guy called "Max" stars in the show while his buddy, Jimmy Still tries to slow down Max's wisecracking motormouth. Still & Max, nominated the 1984 Campus Entertainer of the Year, have the hottest new act on the college market today. They have performed with stars such as Bob Hope, Liberace, and Bill Cosby on television and in night-clubs.

The ventriloquist act begins at Noon Wednesday in Dinneen Theatre and of course, everyone is invited.

BUSINESS SMARTS

The newly formed Business Steering Committee, consisting of the Economics Club, Accounting Club, Association for Computing Machinery, Society for the Advancement of Management, and Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity have announced the first in a series of significant business leaders to speak at SPC beginning at Noon tomorrow in the Pope Lecture Hall, featuring Mr. Patrick Cronin, Vice President of Personnel of the A&P Company. He will address the topic: Recruitment: From the Employer's Point of View."

Professor Emeritus Joseph Leimert and Dr. William Stoms, Director of Career Development, who are coordinating this program, ask that all members of the accounting, computer science, economics, and management/marketing departments encourage their classes to attend this presentation.

STAGE CALL

The Argus Eyes Drama Society of Saint Peter's College will hold auditions for their Spring production, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" this week. Singing and Reading auditions will be held tomorrow and Wednesday in the Second Floor Lounge of Dinneen Hall from 7 - 10 p.m. while Call Backs and Dancing auditions will be held in Dinneen Theatre on Thursday also from 7 - 10 p.m. Dates for the production are February 24, 25 and March 2, 3. Details will follow in future editions of Campus.

A ROUND OF APPLAUSE

Kudos are in order for Lisa Ostrowski, daughter of Walter (Director of Maintenance) and Barbara Ostrowski, who came in Second Place in the Hudson County CYO Talent Contest, Grammar Division, for vocals. Lisa, who is 12 years old, never had a singing lesson in her life. Nice going Lisa!
